

Danish
Shipowners'
Association

Danish Shipowners' Association is pleased to invite you to a seminar on:

Corruption – How do we tackle it in the maritime industry?
Wednesday, 8 October 2014, 08.30 – 11.00

Venue:

Danish Shipowners' Association, Amaliegade 33, 1256 Copenhagen K

Corruption has become a central theme on the political agenda in the recent years as it is seen as an obstacle to sustainable development. This has resulted in tighter and more far-reaching regulation against corruption and urged companies to adopt anti-corruption strategies. Shipping companies operate globally and they may therefore be highly exposed to different forms of corruption in different parts of the world – including countries where demands for facilitation payments are embedded in the culture. This seminar will shed light on the challenges that shipping companies face as a global industry and how we tackle corruption by working together.

Speakers:

Jermyn Brooks, Chair Business Advisory Board, Transparency International

Cecilia M. Torbrand, Legal Counsel – Anti Corruption and Foreign Trade Controls, Maersk and chair MACN Steering Committee

Kristin Berglund, Senior Legal Counsel, Maersk Line

Erik Ankjær Carlsen, VP, Head of Clipper Fleet Management, Clipper Group

Jens Berthelsen, Partner, GAN Integrity Solutions

Moderator:

Senior Advisor Maria Bruun Skipper, Danish Shipowners' Association

Programme:

- 08.30 Registration and coffee
- 09.00 Welcome by Jan Fritz Hansen, Deputy Director General, Danish Shipowners' Association
- 09.05 Jermyn Brooks, Transparency International – Why Corruption undermines Sustainable Development
- 09.25 Cecilia Müller Torbrand, Maersk: The Maritime Anti-Corruption Network, MACN – structure, status and outputs of the network
- 09.40 Kristin Berglund, Maersk Line: The corruption challenges from the perspective of the container business
- 09.55 Erik Ankjær Carlsen, Clipper Group: The corruption challenges from the perspective of the tramp business
- 10.10 Jens Berthelsen, Global Advice Network: The training programme of MACN - “Stand your ground – be a leader”
- 10.25 Panel Discussion
- 11.00 Refreshments

The event will be held in English.

Registration no later than 3 October 2014 to kc@shipowners.dk

